INDIA FIXED INCOME OPPORTUNITIES FUND

a Sub-Fund of Ashburton Investments SICAV
Class D Shares - Distribution - GBP (LU1422756780)
Management Company: MDO Management Company S.A.

Objectives and investment policy

The aim of the Sub-Fund is to grow the value of your investment and generate regular income. It seeks to do this by investing in bonds and similar instruments in India. These may be issued by state or national governments, other organisations or companies that are located or do much of their business in India. The instruments may have good-quality (investment-grade) or lower-quality (non-investment grade) credit ratings, or no ratings at all.

The bonds and other instruments may pay fixed or variable rates of interest. They are mainly in Indian rupees but may also be in other currencies.

The Sub-Fund may invest up to 10% of its assets in special situation debt instruments (such as rescue financing for companies experiencing difficulties).

It may also use selected financial derivatives, but only to help manage the portfolio efficiently.

As the Sub-Fund has been approved by the Financial Services Board, South Africa, investments must follow certain rules of the South African Collective Investment Schemes Control Act (CISCA). See the prospectus for details.

Currency: The base currency of the Sub-Fund is USD. This share class is priced in GBP.

Distribution policy: This Share Class of the Sub-Fund pays out income on its investments twice a year, in April and October.

Buying and selling shares: You can buy and sell shares in the Sub-Fund on any business day, as described in the prospectus. The price you pay or receive will be based on net asset value per share on the day the shares are bought or sold.

The minimum holding is the GBP equivalent of USD5,000 and the minimum purchase is the GBP equivalent of USD10,000.

Investment horizon: The Sub-Fund may be most suitable for investors with a long-term horizon.

Risk and reward profile

This indicator is based on historical data and may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of the Sub-Fund. The risk and reward category shown is not guaranteed to remain unchanged and may shift over time. The lowest category, 1, does not mean the investment is 'risk free'. This indicator is not a measure of the risk that you may lose the amount you have invested.

The stated category of 5 reflects the composition and the performance of the particular assets held by the Fund.

The following are material risks relevant to the Sub-Fund which are not adequately captured by the risk category:

Liquidity risk: The Sub-Fund may not be able to sell or buy certain investments at a suitable time or at a reasonable price.

Emerging markets risk: Securities in emerging markets may involve a higher degree of risk because these markets may be more unstable than developed markets due to social, political and economic factors. It can also be more expensive to buy and sell investments in these markets.

Credit risk: The issuers of bonds or similar instruments that the Sub-Fund buys may not be able to make payments. This could lead to lower income or a fall in the value of the Sub-Fund's investments.

Exchange rate risk: Currency fluctuations may affect both the profitability of the companies the Sub-Fund invests in and also the value of the Sub-Fund's investments.

Tax risk: It is possible that tax laws could change and tax could be deducted without notice. Different shareholders might pay different amounts of tax depending on their circumstances. You should speak to a professional tax advisor if you have any concerns.

Sector and geographical risk: Because the Sub-Fund may only invest in a small number of sectors, it may fall in price even when the broader markets are going up. Investing in bonds or fixed income instruments which have an exposure to commodities and emerging markets may also involve political risk and risk from natural events or terrorism.

Concentration risk: Because the Sub-Fund holds a concentrated portfolio, it may be more volatile than broadly diversified funds.
