What are the risks and what could I get in return?

Risk indicator

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you.

We have classified this product as 4 out of 7, which is a medium risk class.

The Sub-Fund's investments are concentrated in companies in China and India. This product is therefore subject to inherent emerging markets risks

This rates the potential losses from future performance at a medium level, and poor market conditions could impact the capacity to pay you.

If the product is not able to pay you what is owed, you could lose some or all of your investment.

This product does not include any protection from future market performance so you could lose some or all of your investment.

Be aware of currency risk. You may receive payments in a different currency, so the final return you get will depend on the exchange rate between the two currencies. This risk is not considered in the indicator shown above.

The scenarios presented are an estimate of future performance based on evidence from the past on how the value of this investment varies, and are not an exact indicator. What you get will vary depending on how the market performs and how long you keep the investment/product.

The figures shown include all the costs of the product itself, but may not include all the costs that you pay to your advisor or distributor. The figures do not take into account your personal tax situation, which may also affect how much you get back.

What happens if Ashburton Emerging Markets Funds Limited is unable to pay out?

You may face a financial loss (equal to some or all of your investment) due to the default of the Fund. Such a potential loss is not covered by any investor compensation or guarantee scheme. Should Ashburton (Jersey) Limited default, there should be no impact on the Fund as the Fund's assets are held separately from Ashburton (Jersey) Limited's assets.

What are the costs?
