- The US Federal Reserve (the Fed) in a unanimous decision hiked Fed funds rate again in December for the fourth time in 2018, and the ninth in this cycle, but the market disappointed through the lack of a shift to a more dovish tone.
- Oil prices continued a precipitous slide downwards as economic recession possibilities and US-China trade war fears took hold. WTI crude is down over 40% since the peak in early October.
- US Treasury yields fell dramatically as safe haven assets outperformed in the aftermath of an equity crash. 10-year bond yields fell from 3.0% to 2.7% by month end.

*TERs are based on the 31/12/2017 calculations. The Total Expense Ratio (TER) is expressed as an annualised percentage of the charges, levies and fees incurred by the portfolio related to its management, for the period under review against the average NAV of the portfolio over this period. A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a lower TER imply a good return. The current TER cannot be regarded as an indication of future TERs. A full detailed schedule of fees, charges and commissions is available from Ashburton on request and incentives may be paid and if so, would be included in the overall costs.

The value of investments and the income from them can go down as well as up, is not guaranteed, and you may not recover the amount of your original investment. Past performance should not be seen as an indication of future performance. Where investments involve exposure to a currency other than that in which it is denominated, changes in rates of exchange may cause the value of the investment to go up or down, consequently, investors may receive an amount greater or less than their original investment.
